

Supplementary Fig. 2. After the propensity score matching, decreased wound area were re-evaluated resulting that reduction of wound area was greater in group B than in group A ($P=0.021$). Significant differences were evaluated by repeated-measures analysis of variance. Group A, Algisite M dressing group; group B, Medihoney alginate dressing group.